

Drs. Mugo and Gaitho in Seattle for medical exchange program

Dr. Jemimah Karingi Mugo and Dr. Douglas Kinuthia Gaitho were in Seattle for an exchange program organised by the Paediatrics Department at the College of Health Sciences, University of Nairobi and University of Washington.

The visiting doctors joined Seattle Children's pediatric residents for a curriculum that focused on public and global health.

They studied how healthcare systems are structured and met with major players in global health in Seattle, including PATH, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the International Rescue Committee.
