

Dr. Ahmed Laving, a lecturer at the Department of Paediatrics and Child Health was invited to give a talk on 'Tropical diseases affecting the GIT' at the ESPGHAN goes to Africa' post graduate course in Cape Town, South Africa in October 2015.

The delegates were pediatricians from various African countries attending 5 day training on pediatric gastroenterology, hepatology & nutrition.

Other faculty included paediatric gastroenterologists from Europe & South Africa.